

Title: Developer

Employee Status: Exempt

Reporting: Chief Executive Officer

We're seeking a developer to take a key role in our company. This full stack employee must have knowledge in all stages of development. You will be working alongside the company's executive team which includes the Director of Customer Success, Marketing, and Sales.

Key Responsibilities

- Manage and develop the overall architecture of the webapp.
- Maintain the quality and user experience of the application.
- Collaborate with the leadership team to design and launch new features.
- Maintain code integrity and organization.
- Highly experienced with Rails

Required Skills / Experience

- Motivated, self-driven, and resourceful with a willingness to take on new tasks in a fast-paced setting
- Knowledge of technology, software, data management, web-based services (SaaS), and B2B solutions.
- Highly experienced with Rails
- Web fundamentals for front end.
- Love of startup pace, culture, and challenges.

About SENTIO:

At SENTIO, we help companies with hiring the right people. Our artificial intelligence determines the shared mental characteristics of your top performing employees and compares all candidates to that aggregate profile, resulting in significantly less turnover and more employee engagement. Traditional personality tools cost between $250 and $500 per person which restricts similar assessments to high level positions at cash-rich companies. SENTIO costs just 25 cents.

Welcome to the future of hiring.